tion during an incident and a minimum of two tests per year, making costs predictable. Bullhorn enables organizations to distribute messages and surveys to individual contacts, groups of contacts, or teams, record audio messages for phone calls (rather than using text to speech), and more. Bullhorn messages can be sent at an organizational level or directly from individual plans, which makes small-scale messaging easier to delegate to end users. Explore Bullhorn by visiting bccatalyst.com or requesting a free trial.
