Rothstein Associates Inc. focuses on providing companies of all sizes the disaster recovery services and products they need to stay afloat in any situation. Whether it's a tragic natural disaster or a system breakdown, we can help you develop a business continuity plan that will help your company stay on the right track even after a hard hit. By using Rothstein Associates products and tools, including books, CD-ROM Templates, and articles, you can prepare your company for the unexpected. Our disaster recovery planning targets the specific areas where your company is the most vulnerable and focuses on building a business continuity plan that will help you weather any type of disaster. Furthermore, our texts are used in colleges, universities, and business schools around the world to help the next generation of business and government leaders anticipate and recover from natural and man-made disasters. All of our disaster recovery services are focused on providing our customers and professionals in the field with the tools and resources they need to understand the industry and create effective solutions for their businesses. Our forum, book catalog, feature articles and business newsletter all provide the latest information in the field and give everyone from professionals to novices valuable insights into disaster recovery and business continuity. Additionally, by setting up Service Level Agreements (SLAs) you can include your vendors and customers in your disaster recovery plans. As many business leaders already know, the supply chain is vital to continued production, but it can be a weak link in areas like fulfillment and information security, so a pre-written SLA can clearly define everyone's role (internal and external) in how disasters can be prevented and dealt with. By having a comprehensive risk management plan in place, you can maintain business continuity, avoid embarrassment, and protect the bottom line for your shareholders. You can contact Rothstein Associates at +1-203-740-7400 to talk to one of our experienced staff members and learn about the different disaster recovery planning tools and that are available through us. You can also email us at info@rothstein.com with any questions or requests for information. Make sure to check back regularly to the different areas on our website to find out the latest books and other disaster recovery services we have available.
